Dear sister Alston:

O
Thank you so much for being such a gracious hostess last week. The opportunity to study in the Harding Graduate School library was a genuine thrill. A bibliophile like myself always appreciates the opportunity to be near books, especially the quality of books (and the quantity) in your library.

P
The willingness of you and your staff to take telephone calls for me and your gracious offer of space in the library in which to work will be long remembered. It was a pleasure to become more personally acquainted with you and to have the use of your very excellent facility.

Y
May God continue to bless the special ministry of books you have been given.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
